

My Daily Prayer and Declaration

I am my Father's Beloved Son, so today, I invite God to be near me by praising him and his name, because the Bible declares "You are holy, enthroned on the praises of Israel" (Psalms 22:3) and to "Enter his gates with thanksgiving and his courts with praise." (Psalms 100:4) I praise Jesus into my life, heart, this space and my day (your day, our day) right now.

*Praise God as you begin
Practice Benevolent Detachment
List what you're thankful for*

While in God's presence, I am transported to his throne, where only peace, joy and pure worship reign eternally. I am brought, by faith into his presence, and he at the same time is brought down to me, his lowly servant.

And, I acknowledge I have no business being in his presence, except by the blood of the Lamb and Holy Spirit who makes it possible for God to be here in the darkness and darkest places of the world and deepest places of my heart and soul. Again, I am my Father's Beloved Son.

I pray only Jesus and his blood is in between me and God and the world and pronounce I am made worthy to receive God's presence. I now ask God to reveal anything that is or may be in between me and him, separating the two of us. Remembering the separation is never from him to me, but me toward him. I confess any known sins, unholy thoughts, or ongoing distractions along with anything that's just not in my control. I include worries, anxieties, dark feelings, comparison, FOMO any seeds of doubt, cynical attitudes or lies of the enemy. Take a minute or two of silence right now, fixing your eyes on the perfection and beauty of Jesus first...

After confession and receiving forgiveness I claim purification, perfection, full innocence, freedom and the ability to overcome by the shed blood of Christ, right now.

Today in this moment I surrender all. I give up my little agenda I have planned for the day. I absolutely look no further than one day, because overnight my lamp went out and I cannot rekindle it on my own. I don't have any more fuel and dare not begin my day without asking for a fresh supply of oil and an outpouring of Holy Spirit over and within me. I receive my oil right now in this moment. Be the oil that fuels me and the light that shines out from me. I am the light of the world, but I cannot shine without you. Please light my lamp today. I take this seriously to shine brightly, but live lightly. Pray and ask...

I can now pray Holy Spirit would flow into me unhindered and unlimited, from this moment and for the rest of the day, bearing the fruit of the Spirit to all.

My Daily Prayer and Declaration

I pray a protective prayer around my household, family and kingdom today. I put a stake in the ground declaring God's presence over and within my kingdom and all who are influenced by it.

For Sabbath, go to end of document.

I have no place to go, no task to cross off my to-do list and no calendar item that isn't submitted to him. Every moment of this day is surrendered to his will to be worked out in my life. I give up control or the need for control. Every person and every place and every event are not just allowed but predestined into my life today. However, I am especially predestined to mission, adventure and risk today as I partner with God.

Father, I submit and surrender my dreams and goals fully to you. You have pointed me in a direction and have left me to work out most of the details, but I am capable of more than I know. So, yes, a plan is in place, but it must be your plan for me and in your time, knowing you are never in a hurry to execute your plans in partnership with me.

Holy Spirit direct me this day and guide my footsteps, bringing divine appointments into my path. Keep my mind focused and listening to your quiet voice speaking to me any way you like, all day long.

Jesus, I claim the promise of Holy Spirit because it belongs to me as much as it did the first disciples. I understand this promise has conditions, so I do not want to just talk about you nor about Holy Spirit and not get any benefit.

Please help me to fully surrender my soul to be controlled by all heaven has for my benefit. I dare not try to use Holy Spirit but be used by him. I agree to "will and to work according to your good purposes" today. [see Philippians 2:13] Please keep me from managing myself. I humbly wait and watch for your guidance and grace to fully receive Holy Spirit. Your power is at my command, and I receive it now in order to bring all other blessings. It's the riches and grace of Christ that enable this wonderful gift and my prayer is that my soul's capacity to receive is enlarged today.

I want to fully use the oil in my lamp to shine brightly to give my world a beacon of truth and love throughout my day as your Beloved Son.

Eternity is very real and I live for eternity and from an eternal perspective my earthly life is only vanishing grass in a dry and windy field, a vapor in the wind, or a wave on the vast ocean that comes and goes. I make decisions based on this fact and move forward in the sliver of time allotted to me here in this brief life. The reality of eternity enables me to live fully in this present moment like nothing else can. Therefore, I take more risks, I experiment more, I move forward in mission, and I fear nothing. Because really, truly, this could be my last day and I just may not have tomorrow. Let me make decisions and live based on one day. And help me be like a sailboat, not a power boat, moving forward under your power, going in your direction, not my own. As long as I do that, I believe my best days are still ahead of me, including an eternity.

Here in my quiet time, I endeavor to: invite God's presence; seek his wisdom and will for my life today; nourish my soul with his word – to receive in order to give back; to pray for others who need God's intervention and presence in their lives, in fact spending more time here than anyplace else in prayer. I pray Jesus' shed blood over each person and circumstance. [Stop and do this]. Help me keep fixing my eyes on Jesus hour to hour throughout my day.

Finally, declaring over me the following:

I live from a place of rich divine abundance, not human scarcity. Holy Spirit is infinitely creative and has absolutely no limit and can never be exhausted or run out. The only way God's abundant and rich presence is limited is because of my unbelief, disobedience or doubt and I refuse to give any space to any of those and all that comes in their wake because throughout this day, I am fixing my eyes on Jesus.

My Daily Dream

Take a few minutes to envision a dream you have as you intentionally live into it daily.

The Ability to Focus

In the midst of a world filled with distractions and a mind prone to wander, I harness the power of focus. I am a man defined by my concentration; knowing my mission clearly, when I set my mind to a task, I can effortlessly dismiss all distractions, letting them float away like leaves carried by a passing stream.

Because "Every good and perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights" (James 1:17) I receive the following for myself:

Wisdom

I ask for and receive heavenly wisdom today. I don't need a strong intellect or superintelligence to be wise. Wisdom, according to the Bible, is preferred, and according to the Bible readily available. I just need to ask for and apply it, knowing it never negates my ability to think.

I am a man of wisdom. I humbly receive and wield heavenly wisdom today. God freely – generously and ungrudgingly – gives of his wisdom, to me because I asked. I am capable of fully using the wisdom God gives me for just today. Pause and quietly ask...

My Daily Prayer and Declaration

Humility

Because God opposes the proud, I will always know my place and continually ask God to keep me humble as he sees fit. The path to greatness is the path of humble service. I don't need credit or to always be seen. I am willing to take the low seat at the table while lifting others up, seeing others as better than myself. In fact, my success depends on how many others I can lift up, help and serve. I am quietly humble today: powerful, yet humble; maybe even dangerous, yet humble. Pause and quietly ask for a spirit of humility...

Authority

"I have given you authority" you said in Luke 10. You have given me authority and I now bring the authority, rule and dominion of the risen Christ into my life, my prayers and my day. By the delegation of your authority TO me, I wield it on your kingdom's behalf with all wisdom and humility within my kingdom today.

Discipline and Strength

Both God's discipline and his strength are freely given to me and I freely receive them today. I am disciplined because Jesus was while on earth. I am strong because he is the source of any strength I bring to my world. In fact, my strength is God's strength, and my weakness is swallowed up in it.

Death to Self

Along with the surrender already mentioned, I also die to myself and the world today – what can man do to me? I do not fear death because it is no longer I who live, but Christ lives in me. As long as he lives in me, I cannot fail, and I cannot be stopped. His perfect will for my life today will manifest to my world because everything about me is gone. I am crucified with Christ, and I take up my cross today. I am dead to my own agenda. Only he remains as I agree with John the Baptist that he would increase, and I would decrease. Amen

The Armor of God

I put on the armor afresh today as your son, the armor of God: shoes of the gospel of peace, whereby I can move in step with your Spirit; a belt of truth, whereby I love the things you love and I hate the things you hate; a breastplate of righteousness, whereby I choose what you choose, and I refuse what you refuse. I put on the helmet of salvation, whereby my hope is seated and established in the Kingdom to come and the place that you have carved out for me. My hope is in the intervention of Heaven today. I take up the sword of the Spirit, that you would arm me with the Word of God; and the shield of faith, whereby I am sure of what I hope for and certain of all that I do not see. I put it on. I join the brotherhood of warring and standing against principalities and powers opposed to God's kingdom, along with other men's freedom today. Help me be the answer to a man's prayers today. In Jesus' name, amen.

My Daily Prayer and Declaration

Weekly Sabbath Version

This morning (or this evening), it is Sabbath. I choose to intentionally relax and not worry about anything from this past week, nor the week to come. It is God's gift to me.

I give everyone and everything to God right now and for the entirety or remainder of the Sabbath hours. In this palace of time and glimpse into eternity for 24 hours, it is my privilege to let God carry me so I can enjoy rest, worship, family and service.

Today I declare I don't have to work. I don't have to try, strive and earn a living. I let God be my true Provider and source of wealth and happiness and fulfillment.
